Welcome to Jury Service in the United States District Court

This booklet contains some of the information that will be covered in your orientation. Please keep it for reference.

Jury service is not only a duty of citizenship, it is a privilege. Based upon responses to exit questionnaires, we know that most people find their jury service to be interesting and worthwhile. We hope you will, too.

PAYMENT FOR JURY SERVICE

Attendance Fee: $40.00 per day

Parking Reimbursement: $10.00 per day

Mileage Reimbursement: Mileage is reimbursed for your round-trip mileage from your home to the federal courthouse. This rate changes from time to time. You will be advised of the rate that is in effect during your term of service.

You will be paid for each day of attendance whether or not you are selected to sit on the jury. The court cannot pay you if you fail to call the Jury Information Line and report when you are not called.

If you are employed, you are entitled by law to receive your regular pay from your employer, minus the $40.00 attendance fee. If you need further information regarding this provision, please request it from the jury clerk when you report for service.

If you are an employee of the United States government, you are not paid an attendance fee, but you will still be reimbursed for mileage and parking.

If your employer needs verification of your attendance for payroll records, please see the jury clerk or courtroom deputy for an attendance slip.

Juror paychecks are prepared approximately every two weeks and mailed directly to you at home. If your address changes during your term of service please advise the jury clerk. If you have a question regarding your juror payment, you should contact the jury clerk in the Knoxville office.

The IRS requires that the $40.00 attendance fee be included on your tax return (not the mileage and parking reimbursements). The court does not issue an IRS Form 1099 unless a juror is paid $600.00 or more in attendance fees in one calendar year.

USE OF ELECTRONIC TECHNOLOGY TO CONDUCT RESEARCH OR COMMUNICATE ABOUT A CASE

It is essential that jurors' decisions be based solely on the information received in the courtroom. Please remember these rules:

Do not talk to anyone, or let anyone talk to you about the case.

This includes your family and friends. You must not discuss any aspect of the case with anyone until the trial is concluded. Also, do not discuss the case with the other jurors until your deliberations begin.

Do not receive or send electronic communications about the case.

This includes texting, emailing, blogging, posting information on social network websites, or using any other electronic communications to discuss, or even mention, the case.

Avoid outside information from the internet or other sources.

This means that during the trial you must not conduct any independent research about the case, the matters in the case, and the individuals or corporations involved in the case. Do not try to find out information from any source outside the confines of the courtroom. This includes consulting dictionaries or reference materials, searching the internet, websites, blogs, or using any other electronic tools to obtain information about the case. You must also avoid news reports - broadcast, print, or internet relating to the case or issues in the case.

LAWS GOVERNING JURY SERVICE

Any person summoned for jury service in U.S. District Court (federal court) is required to report as directed unless excused by the Court. Reasons for excuse are set forth in the Jury Plan for the Random Selection of Grand and Petit Jurors, a copy of which is available for inspection in the Clerk's Office of the U. S. District Court. The grounds for excuse are limited, as jury service is an acknowledged duty of citizenship, and our form of government requires individuals to serve as jurors when called.

A person summoned for jury service who fails to appear as directed can be ordered by the Court to appear and show cause for failure to comply with the summons. A person who fails to show good cause to the Court for noncompliance with a summons may be fined not more than $1000, imprisoned not more than three days, ordered to perform community service, or any combination thereof.

By statute and order of this Court, an employer may not discharge, threaten to discharge, intimidate, or coerce any permanent employee because of the employee's jury service, or the attendance or scheduled attendance in connection with jury service. If you believe your employer has engaged in such prohibited conduct, you should inform the judge or a member of the Clerk's Office immediately.

An employer violating this requirement is subject to

- (1) liability for damages to the employee,
- (2) an injunction from further such violations and to provide appropriate relief, including the reinstatement of such employee, and
- (3) a civil penalty of not more than $5,000 for each violation as to each employee, and
- (4) may be ordered to perform community service.

District courts have been given jurisdiction over civil actions brought for the protection of jurors' employment rights, and a mechanism has been provided for the appointment of counsel for jurors claiming violations by their employers and whose claims are found to have possible merit.
